Advice to Burn

The farmer gets more good advice than any man beneath the sun; the magazines would treat him nice, so tell him once, and tell him twice, how all his duties should be done. And lecturers with bulging brows in country schools lay down the law; they tell him how to groom his cows, and how to raise blue ribbon sows by feeding artichokes and straw. The editors of weekly sheets, who never pushed a span of mules, sit in their chairs with leather seats, and tell him how to raise his beets, and for his guidance lay down rules. The men pursuing other trades, we all assume, know what to do; no man the merchant prince upbraids, or chides the lawyer till he fades, or to the plumber hands a few. The sexton, he can dig a grave, we do not stop to tell him how, or show the barber how to shave, or tell the tightwad how to save; the dairyman can milk his cow. But every man in town believes no husbandman knows how to farm; and so we criticise his sheaves, and tell him how to shear his beeves, and treat the old mare for the heaves, and bore him till he has the peeves, and to his shoulders rolls his sleeves, and tries to do us deadly harm. WALT MASON.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Resolutions of sympathy on the death of James Lansburgh were adopted yesterday by the board of directors of the Union Savings Bank, of which board Mr. Lansburgh had been a member for a number of years. The resolutions call attention to Mr. Lansburgh's faithful attendance to business and his faithful attendance upon the board

The formal opening of the new Washington Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Hospital, 2517 Pennsylvania avenue, which was to have been held today, has been indefinitely postponed. It was explained that as a result of scarcity of labor the institution has not been completed.

Proceedings of the recent American Pharmaceutical Association's convention, held in Baltimore, were read at a meeting of the Washington Pharmaceutical Association, at 808 I street northwest, last night. Dr. W. W. Stockberger, Dr. S. L. Hilton, Dr. H. E. Klasuowski, Prof. M. A. Pozen and H. C. Fuller addressed the meeting.

More than 500 members and friends of the Elks enjoyed a Halloween party and oyster roast last night at the clubhouse on H street. There was merry-making from early in the evening until midnight. The members and their friends danced and sang and ate of sters, which had been prepared in many styles.

Alleging that a sudden stopping of a train on which he was a passenger near Baltimore July 30 last, threw him from an upper berth of a Pullman car and seriously injured him, Harry Field has filed suit in the District Supreme Court to recover $10,000 damages from the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Raliroad Company, the Pennsylvania Raliroad Company and the Pullman Company, Attorneys Tepper & Gusack appear for the passenger.

Officers for the year are to be elected at the annual meeting of the Federa-tion of Citizens' Associations Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the boardroom of the District building. W. Gwynn Gardiner, the new District Commission-er, is to speak. The committee on revi-sion of the constitution also is to re-port.

Capt. Charles D. Shackelford has issued orders for all members of Company A, Home Pefense League Rifles, to be present at the regular drill at 1224 H street northwest this evening at 8

Classes in subjects dealing with aviation have been started at Georgetown University. Rev. Walter G. Summers, professor of physics, has been made dean of the aviation school. He is assisted by Rev. Peter Archer, professor of astronomy; Rev. John A. Brosnan, dean of the department of chemistry at Woodstock College; Augustino Itturbide, professor of military French, and Maj. E. V. Bookmiller, who is conducting a special course on military science and tactics.

Beginning November 2, 1917, when you send a letter weighing an ounce you will pay 3 cents for its transmittal to any distance outside of Washington. The act of March 3, 1863, was the first law which established a uniform rate of postage on letters, regardless of distance transmitted.

Rates Didn't Drop Until 1883.

It was not until March 3, 1883, that an act was passed again changing the rates of postage. First-class matter was then reduced to 2 cents a half ownee, or

All post cards require two cents postage under the new postal rates which go into ef-fect tomorrow.

Instructions sent out by the city post office to the residents of the city to the effect that post cards entirely in print or bearing only simple inscriptions might be sent for one cent are incorrect.

The Post office Department announces that all postal cards and post cards must be prepaid two cents, whether written or printed. Picture post cards require two cents postage the same as all others. The familiar postal cards stamp-ed with a one-cent stamp will require an additional one-cent stamp.

Those who think the three-cent rate for letters which will go into effect omorrow is "pretty steep" should have ived in these United States during ivil war days. Postal rates under the new law will be just exactly half what the rates were in 1863, Supt. William C. Wood of the division of classifications of the Post Office Department pointed out to-

The new rate calls for 3 cents per ounce on letters sent-out of town. By act of Congress of March 3, 1863, the rate of postage on domestic letters not exceeding one-half ounce in weight not exceeding one-hair ounce in weight was fixed at 3 cents and 3 cents for each additional half ounce or fraction thereof.

Notice that "half ounce."

It was 3 cents a half ounce then, whereas under the rates which go into effect tomorrow the rate will be but 3 cents per ounce.
